

Your End-to-End Commerce Delivery Solution.

Commerce Assurance is the complete bundle of project delivery and support solutions from Commerce Guys—the creators and experts behind Drupal Commerce. From project definition and scoping through ongoing consulting, hosting, and support for your commerce sites, Commerce Assurance gives you confidence knowing that the experts in Drupal Commerce are here to ensure that your project is delivered on time, aligned with best practices, and within budget.

What's included with Commerce Assurance?

Project Validation. Our Commerce experts will review, validate, and make recommendations during the development and building phases, ensuring it follows best practices from both technical and project management perspectives. From verification of technical architecture and security standards through project timelines and sprint cycles, Project Validation makes sure your project stays on time and on budget.

Project Discovery and Architecture Design. We help you define project requirements and architecture, preparing a Scope and Architecture Document that provides a blueprint covering user interactions, features, dependencies, prerequisites, and special considerations like identifying potential gaps where custom code will be needed.

Project Coaching and Development Support. Throughout the process, our experts continue to guide your team to keep your project on track and problem-free, addressing everything from technical stumbling blocks to Drupal best practices, documentation, and even integration with outside systems.

Ongoing Drupal Commerce Support Coverage. Our Support is your behind-the-scenes help: You continue to own support for front-end users and your own Drupal modules, and we're there to help with any issues related to Drupal Commerce functionality, administration, or availability.

Drupal Commerce Production Hosting. Commerce Platform is comprehensive eCommerce hosting, designed by the people who know it best—from custom, multistage development environments to scalable services that you'll never outgrow.
