Our Partners' Perspective.

United Kingdom

"Our partnership with Commerce Guys has enabled us to follow up on much larger eCommerce leads that we would have before. The knowledge that we have the backing and support of a specialist team with detailed knowledge of the Drupal Commerce code is a key selling point when dealing with large scale eCommerce projects."

Richard Jones, CTO

United States

"We joined the Commerce Guys partner program to help us grow the eCommerce side of our business, we look forward to deploying sites with Drupal Commerce."

Omar Kahn, President

Switzerland

"At Cando, we have been working on a major eCommerce project based on Drupal 7 since June 2010 and we decided to go with Drupal Commerce at a very early stage. We teamed with Commerce Guys to ensure that our architecture choices were right and we got their support on building some key Drupal Commerce features. This partnership worked amazingly well, resulting in a win-win situation from the beginning to the end of the project."

Luke Bochsler, Managing Partner

France

"We take our partnership with Commerce Guys very seriously since we believe that Drupal Commerce is a very promising solution for meeting our clients expectations regarding flexibility, scalability and customization."
