

Commerce Guys is the software company behind Drupal Commerce, the eCommerce solution that capitalizes on the virtues and power of Drupal, the premier open-source content management system. We focus our knowledge and expertise on providing online merchants with the powerful, responsive, innovative eCommerce solutions they need to thrive.

---

Why Drupal Commerce?

It offers better flexibility.

The trends and challenges of eCommerce change fast, and proprietary packages can constrain a company's ability to adapt and innovate. One major strength of a Drupal platform is its flexibility, offering unparalleled customization, scalability, and integration across channels. Plus, because it's open-source, you're not restricted to working with a particular vendor.

It's a better product.

Drupal is the premier open-source technology, developed and maintained by a collaborative global community of over 3,000 expert contributors. Motivated by the pursuit of excellence and innovation, the community continuously improves upon its work. The result is robust, cutting-edge technology ideally suited to the demands of eCommerce.

It's better for your bottom line.

Proprietary packages can cost a company hundreds of thousands of dollars or more. With open-source technology, your company saves on licensing fees—money better spent on improving your functionality and growing your business.

Why Commerce Guys?

We are the ones the leaders come to for open-source eCommerce solutions.

We're the driving force behind Drupal Commerce, the powerful eCommerce platform that offers unparalleled flexibility and scalability. High-profile companies like Capgemini and Publicis come to us for eCommerce solutions for their clients.

We have deep knowledge and expertise.

When you work with us, you tap directly into our mastery of the technology and our understanding of eCommerce. In addition to being Commerce Guys, we're also contributors to the open-source community. We've already done the hard work. We know what modules will work best for you and how to combine them for your unique needs.

Our solutions know no boundaries.

With offices in North America and Europe, we're attuned to the specifics of different markets, local ecosystems, regulations and cultural trends and readily anticipate them. Your eCommerce site will not miss a beat because of language, currency, tax, or shipping requirements.

See some of our work.

www.commerceguys.com/casestudies

A Brief Overview of Our Services

Truly flexible eCommerce.

Commerce Guys' services are designed to help companies meet the challenges and seize the opportunities of eCommerce by leveraging the power of open-source technology. We help ensure your success with expert services and collaboration for the life cycle of your project.

Architecture

We build a blueprint of your project, detailing requirements, workflows, best practices, cost and time estimates—all the information you need to ensure your project goes smoothly.

Training

Development Coaching

Even the most skilled developer can encounter problems when working with new technology. We're ready with personalized, focused guidance to get through roadblocks quickly.

Training Sessions

Commerce Guys hosts public training events tailored to different levels of experience with Drupal Commerce.

Customized Workshops

We also offer private training targeted to the specific needs of your project.

Expert Module Development

Need a unique feature?

Something that's never been done before? No problem. If it can't be accomplished by any of the thousands of existing Drupal modules, we'll build the functionality for you.

24/7 Technical Support Hotline

eCommerce is a 24/7 thing, and so is our commitment to your success.

We're ready with information and guidance to work through any issues you encounter.

Contact us to get your project started. | 888.827.7142